

SUZANNE BRAMALL

ALFI candidate for Lytham East Always Lytham First Independents

Suzanne relocated to Lytham over two years to be closer to family and friends. Her connection to Lytham St Annes though dates back to her childhood through family ties.

In her spare time, she loves walking her dog, crafting, reading and is a bit of a foodie.

A degree in Social Work and an MBA in Management, she started her career by caring for the elderly and volunteering at the Citizens Advice Bureau.

Later, she developed CAB community services within a social care setting to make the Citizens Advice Bureau accessible to those who could not attend in person and felt marginalised in society. Having worked in Psychiatric Social Care and spent over 20 years managing and developing a portfolio of NHS Mental Health Community services in a large inner-city area.

She is committed to addressing the issues that matter to you and our community. Living here she has become aware of issues with Liggard Brook and the need for our young to have more places to go. The need for support for those that are isolated, especially the elderly and those suffering with dementia. She involved herself in local groups including Fylde Coast against Sewage testing our sea water.

If you see Suzanne out and about, please say hello and have a chat, your opinion counts and let's discover and tackle more issues together. She has been out on the Lytham Square talking to and answering local residents issues and concerns, with other ALFI candidates.

She has also been a supporter of Lytham Voice and believes there is no place for party politics at Parish Level.
